THE GAZETTE.

Dr. Bullock on Dr. Parkhurst.

The most outspoken minister of influence who has taken part in the discussion of Rev. Dr. Parkhurst's recent visit disreputable places in New York, is the Rev. J. J. Bullock, a man eminent as a theologian, with a wide reputation in the South as a preacher of scholarship and force. He was for many years the Chaplain of the United States Senate.

Dr. Bullock says: "The announcement that the Rev. Dr. Parkhurst has accepted an invitation extended him by a number of Washington citizens, among them Postmaster-General Wamaker and ex-Judge Strong, to deliver an oration on 'The Duty of the Christian Church in Relation to the Civil Law,' filled me with no little pain and astonishment. It was a sad day for the cause of Christianity and for the Presbyterian Church when Dr. Parkhurst, forgetful alike of the plainest principles of Christian morality and of common decency, according to his own testimony in a court of justice, visited houses of ill fame in disguise, for the purpose of finding out for himself what was going on in those vile places, in order that he might more vigorously attack them. It was a part of the pre-arranged programme. I cannot go more fully into the details. It is too disgusting and shocking to relate. When I read the testimony my moral sense was shocked. So also were the great body of Christians and decent people who were made acquainted with the details. I felt Dr. Parkhurst had done more harm to the cause of religion and sound morality than all the wild ravings of atheists and agnostics. I thought that in his fiery zeal for reform he had gone mad. The adoption of the diabolical principle that it is lawful to do evil that good may come—of fighting evil with evil—would undermine the very foundations of Christian morals, and would make the Church of Christ a byword and a hissing to the true friends of sound Christian morality. Dr. Parkhurst may call it 'drivelling nonsense' to refuse to approve his reckless performances, but he will find before he is through with his wild crusade that he has shocked the moral sense and the sense of decency of multitudes of the wisest and best people in the land. I would have remained silent in regard to Dr. Parkhurst and his performances were he to come of his own accord to address the people of Washington in advocacy of his views, for Washington is a favorite place for all sorts of people with all sorts of notions; but when such men as Mr. Wamaker and Justice Strong, elders of the Presbyterian Church, invite Dr. Parkhurst to come here to teach the people sound morality, I feel constrained to utter my solemn protest against him as a competent teacher of sound morals. I am not willing for the people to believe that Dr. Parkhurst, though backed by these distinguished gentlemen, is a safe teacher of religion and morality. The cause of sound morals needs no such aid as Dr. Parkhurst's unclean methods and demoralizing doctrines. If Dr. Parkhurst has recklessly cut loose from the universally received doctrine among all sound-thinking men, that it is wrong to do evil that good may come, let him have all the dishonor to himself. Let the church and all lovers of the truth refuse to countenance any such horrible teaching. With what burning indignation did Paul denounce the horrible dogma in the third chapter of Romans, eighth verse: 'We be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say, Let us do evil that good may come, whose damnation is just?' God forbid that the church of Christ should ever be so disloyal to her Divine head as to make a breach upon one of the cardinal principles of Christian morality, or that her ministers and elders should sanction measures that violate the well-accredited principles of decency and morality."—Wash. cor. N. Y. Sun.

Playing Lynching.

The sensation of being hanged was experienced on Thursday by Evan Hamilton, the 5-year-old son of Oscar Hamilton, who lives in Doylestown, Pa. The child was nearly strangled, and his neck got such a severe wrenching that it will likely ache for days to come.

Evan was playing in the yard with several other children when one of them suggested that they play "lynching." A rope was secured. In one end a slipping noose was tied. The other end was thrown across the limb of a tree, and by using a large box to stand upon the children tied the rope securely to the limb. The noose hung down just far enough to slip over Evan Hamilton's head when he stood upon the box.

Evan volunteered to be the first victim and the others were to be the mob. Evan clambered upon the box, stood upon his tip-toes, put the noose over his head, adjusted the knot, but horror! In standing upon his toes he overbalanced the box and it rolled from under his feet. The noose was jerked fearfully tight about his neck, so tight he could not cry for help. His feet did not touch the ground and the suffering boy hung suspended from the limb of the tree.

The other children were too excited and too much frightened at the catastrophe to offer assistance to their helpless companion. But they could use their little lungs, which they did in earnest, and their screams alone saved Evan Hamilton's life. His mother heard her son hanging limp and stiff. His face was already much discolored. In a twinkling the mother lifted up the son and unfasted the treacherous noose. The unfortunate lad had been almost strangled to death, and it was some time before he could give an account of his suffering.

His neck was badly cut by the rope and it had been severely twisted, but his injuries are in no way serious. Pretty is as pretty does, But it is a pretty howdy-do, When you get a case of Neuralgia in the night and no Stonebraker's Liniment in the House to cure it with.
